Denison Receives Missouri PTA Distinguished Service Award

Group praises his longstanding commitment to improving education in Missouri

Jefferson City- Representative Charlie Denison (R-Springfield) has received the Missouri PTA's Distinguished Service Award for his contributions to education. Denison, who has been in the Missouri House of Representatives since 2005, has been a steadfast advocate for all levels of education during his time in the General Assembly.

"I am truly honored by this award and the recognition of the Missouri PTA," Denison said. "Since my first days in the legislature, I have been committed to improving the lives of Missouri's children by working to improve our schools."

Denison has been an advocate for increased education funding and has worked on a number of education-related issues. In announcing the award, Wendy Jackson, Missouri PTA President, noted Denison's contribution "to the improvement of the quality of life for all children and youth everywhere" and his contribution to "making every child's potential a reality."

"I have always said that Missouri has no second class kids, therefore, it should have no second class schools," Denison stated. "That's why I remain dedicated to ensuring that every child in Missouri children has the opportunity to receive a word-class education."
